Famous Quotes

Definition

A quotation is the repetition of one expression as part of another one, particularly when the quoted expression is well-known or explicitly attributed by citation to its original source, and it is indicated by (punctuated with) quotation marks.

Synomyms: citation, quote, excerpt, extract, passage, line, paragraph, verse, phrase;

Quotes by Groucho Marx

I worked my way up from nothing to a state of extreme poverty.

Quote me as saying I was mis-quoted.

Politics is the art of looking for trouble, finding it everywhere, diagnosing it incorrectly and applying the wrong remedies.

If I held you any closer I would be on the other side of you.

Next time I see you, remind me not to talk to you.

I intend to live forever, or die trying.

Quotes by Douglas Adams

It is a mistake to think you can solve any major problems just with potatoes.

For a moment, nothing happened. Then, after a second or so, nothing continued to happen.

Flying is learning how to throw yourself at the ground and miss.

Human beings, who are almost unique in having the ability to learn from the experience of others, are also remarkable for their apparent disinclination to do so.

In the beginning the Universe was created. This has made a lot of people very angry and been widely regarded as a bad move.

You live and learn. At any rate, you live.

A common mistake that people make when trying to design something completely foolproof is to underestimate the ingenuity of complete fools.

I find the whole business of religion profoundly interesting. But it does mystify me that otherwise intelligent people take it seriously.

Quotes by Terry Pratchett

The pen is mightier than the sword if the sword is very short, and the pen is very sharp.

Five exclamation marks, the sure sign of an insane mind.

I'll be more enthusiastic about encouraging thinking outside the box when there's evidence of any thinking going on inside it.

This isn't life in the fast lane, it's life in the oncoming traffic.

Build a man a fire, and he'll be warm for a day. Set a man on fire, and he'll be warm for the rest of his life.

It occurred to me that at one point it was like I had two diseases - one was Alzheimer's, and the other was knowing I had Alzheimer's.

Five exclamation marks, the sure sign of an insane mind.

There is a rumour going around that I have found God. I think this is unlikely because I have enough difficulty finding my keys, and there is empirical evidence that they exist.
